Librarian of the 334th session

Why choose me?

Joining the Phil has been one of the most rewarding experiences of my fresher year and now more than anything I wish to give back my own time and energy into ensuring that the Phil runs just as smoothly during the 334th session! I'm an extremely creative person who has high regard for the aesthetically pleasing. Photography and design have always been things that I have been passionate about and I'd like to think that I know what looks good to other people. As librarian I promise to not only use these skills to the advantage of this society but also work hard in order to improve them, to learn from others and to allow others to learn from me.

Plans for 334

I would consider the photos taken at our events to be one of our most valuable tools for advertising and attracting people to join the Phil, may that be freshers or guest speakers.

They act as a point of reference for all events and as your next librarian I will continue to provide high quality photos which depict good turnouts and that capture the essence of the Phil. I promise to deal with pictures taken at every event in an extremely efficient manner. I intend to designate a set time every week during which team lib will sit together to ensure that photos taken are edited, watermarked and posted on Facebook no later than one week after an event takes place. In addition to this one of my ideas is to buy a film camera which can be used at major Phil events such as Maiden's final, Phil ball etc.. The film photos can be developed and used to decorate the convo room and at the end of the year I intend of making a 334 photo album of all our memories.

Social media

The Phil no doubt has a strong Facebook presence which I intend on fully maintaining. However I would like the streamline the brand of the Phil equally across all social media platforms such as Instagram, Twitter and Snapchat so that the society can communicate to a wider audience. Posting more frequently on the aforementioned platforms will give more recognition to our smaller scale events and shows people that the Phil is more than just a debating society.

Posters/Philander

The Philander and posters are something I'm really looking forward to dealing with this year. I believe that I have a painterly eye for detail and am obsessed with making things look as aesthetically pleasing as possible. I intend on making both of these things eye-catching and vibrant and will work hard to maintain the high standard of previous librarians. I also want to re-introduce the graphics request idea where other members of council can request posters for events in advance. This will also allow other members of council to share their own creative ideas of how they want their event to be advertised. This idea will no doubt avoid any potential miscommunications and stress of having to deal with things last minute.

Videos and livestream

The live streaming of debates has proven to be a great success and I hope to continue this. I will focus on uploading videos to YouTube more regularly also.

Website

As the largest and oldest society in Trinity I think it is extremely important for the Phil website to be updated ASAP with current information, photos and news. This will be one of the first things I do in September.

My role as an officer on council

I think I will be a great addition to the council as in every situation I try my best to meet the needs and requirements of those around me and will work well with taking and giving feedback. I am an extremely organised person and intend on developing a good and open line of communication with my MCs in order to avoid possible problems. I will distribute workload fairly to members of team lib so that no one individual ever feels under extreme pressure. Over summer I intend on sitting down with my MCs and teaching them all the skills required for team lib so that we are all on the same level and able to carry out our roles independently as well as as a team. I will try to be open to criticism and constructive feedback from my peers on council because I am fully aware that I still have a lot to learn. I will work hard to use my role as an officer to make the Phil a fun and lighthearted experience for all especially for freshers as from this year I know how daunting large societies can seem from the outset. I am so thankful for everyone on council who welcomed me into the Phil and made me feel like one of their own and all I can hope is to do the same during the 334th session. Thank you!
